PART 1. ABOUT NMAT

The National Medical Admission Test (NMAT) is a standardized test designed to upgrade the selection of applicants seeking admission to Philippine medical schools. It evolved from a widespread concern to screen qualified candidates aspiring for a medical degree. It intends to improve the quality of medical education in the country and envisions to elevate the medical profession to a level of competence through a careful evaluation of student potentials for future medical studies.

Pursuant to the Medical Act of 1959, the Board of Medical Education (BME), under DECS Order No. 52 series 1985 and in consultation with the Association of Philippine Medical Colleges Foundation, Inc. (APMC), required the NMAT as a prerequisite for admission in all medical schools nationwide beginning school year 1986 – 1987.

The Center for Educational Measurement, Inc. (CEM) has been authorized to manage the affairs and activities related to the operation of the NMAT since the first administration of the test in December 1985. With CEM's experience as an educational testing agency, it was commissioned to develop the NMAT, ensure the reliability and validity of the test, and uphold the confidentiality of results and integrity of its administration.

There are two test administrations in a school year — the REGULAR and the BACKUP test administrations. The regular testing is scheduled usually towards the middle of the school year while the back up testing is around the end of the school year. The back up testing is intended for those who missed the regular testing or those who intend to be well-prepared in applying to the medical colleges.

Brief Description of the Test

The NMAT is a two-part test: Part 1 consists of tests of mental ability and Part 2 are tests of academic proficiency. The four subtests that compose Part 1 measure aptitudes that were found to have significant correlations with academic performance of medical students, while the four subtests that compose Part 2 measure subject proficiency in areas which are part of the academic background required of applicants to the medical course.

The subtests in Part 1 are as follows:

VERBAL. This subtest consists of two item types, namely, word analogies and reading comprehension, which measure verbal reasoning, inferential, and analytical abilities. Items in reading comprehension are based on the content of portions of published materials covering a wide range of topics, e.g., social, scientific, medical, philosophical, literary.

INDUCTIVE REASONING. This subtest consists of number, letter, and figural series and figure grouping items. These items measure induction, a reasoning that occurs in the absence of complete information. Specifically, in the test, it is the ability to perceive relationships among stimuli and draw a logical conclusion or infer a general rule.

QUANTITATIVE. This subtest consists of three item types, namely, fundamental operations (or direct computation), problem solving, and data interpretation. These items are intended to measure general reasoning, or the ability to organize and apply knowledge of basic mathematics and reasoning to find solutions for them.

PERCEPTUAL ACUITY. This subtest consists of three item types, namely, hidden figure, mirror image, and identical information. These are essentially visual recognition tasks that are complicated by distractions. Finding solutions to these items involve accuracy by focusing on relevant details, analyzing relationships, and visualization.

* Time limit starts when the signal to begin the test is given. It does not include time spent on preliminary activities, giving directions, and distribution of materials.

The four subtests that compose Part 2 are BIOLOGY, PHYSICS, SOCIAL SCIENCE, and CHEMISTRY. Social Science includes items in psychology, sociology, and anthropology. The items in the four subtests are limited to concepts that are common and basic to the curricula of college introductory courses, particularly the degree programs considered as premedical courses. On the whole, these four subtests measure complex mental abilities because answering the items requires the use of the different cognitive skills—understanding, applying, analyzing, evaluating, and synthesizing.

Preparing for the Test

You, the prospective test taker, must familiarize yourself with the look and feel of the NMAT in advance. It will minimize your anxiety and help you be better prepared for the actual testing experience.

Understanding the NMAT

Test taking will be greatly improved with the use of a practice set that, more or less, reflects the content and test length of the NMAT and the skills that the test measures. The practice test will help you know what each particular subtest is about, and what it measures by analyzing the information, concepts, and principles involved in the items.

The brief description of the NMAT in the previous section gives you an idea of the relative difficulty of the subtests. Part 1 requires more of innate abilities. The items in any of the four subtests of Part 1 primarily measure aptitude. Basic concepts or principles can be found in the items presented. In Part 2, the items in any of the four subtests, with the exception of some recall items, require the use of complex abilities such as application and analysis. This is where Part 2 will require references and note taking. For example, in the practice test, a problem in physics that requires the use of a formula will need your ability to recall the formula and apply it. It is, therefore, good practice to note down your analysis of the problem. A formula has a number of variables, and it is likely to appear in similar problems involving the other variables.

Management of Study Time

There are about two to four months between the registration for the NMAT and the administration of the test, depending on when you take the test—regular or back up. Apportion your time wisely so that you can cover all the areas included in Part 2. Your practice can be a good indicator of your weak areas. Early in your preparation to take the NMAT, you should try to answer all the questions in your practice set. The practice set has exactly the same directions as the actual test. You should become familiar with the specific directions before you take the test. This will make it possible for you to spend less time reading instructions and more time answering questions on the actual test.

Upon answering the practice set, tick off or note all the items where you have difficulty understanding and getting the correct answers. Then reread your notes or reference books and analyze why your answers differ from the correct answer. Do your review systematically so you proceed by sections. After you have finished reviewing your weak areas, you should now be ready to take the NMAT.

To prepare yourself to take the test under time pressure, take your practice set and simulate the actual test time which is 3 hours for Part 1 and 2 ½ hours for Part 2.

After answering the test under time pressure, score your test against the Answer Key. If you get 75% of the items correctly, you are in good shape and ready to take the NMAT. Lower than 75% correct answers will mean the need to improve your base information level on the various subtests and to sharpen your application and/or analytical skills.

CAUTION: The Practice Set is meant to guide you in your review and to provide you with an opportunity to simulate the NMAT testing procedure. Do not memorize the test questions and the answers in the answer key. The NMAT you will take will not include the same questions you see in the Practice Set.

Test Scores

Each NMAT form administered measures the same basic skills and concepts but uses different questions. Because of this, there is a potential for a form to be either easier or slightly more difficult than another. Hence, an examinee's raw scores are converted to a scale that takes into consideration the level of difficulty of the test questions on a given form. This conversion makes possible the comparison of reported scores across test forms.

The NMAT yields the following set of scores: (1) Part 1 subtest scores and a composite score called APT, (2) Part 2 subtest scores and a composite score called SA, and (3) a full composite score derived from the eight subtests called the General Performance Score (GPS).

The score on each of the eight subtests is expressed as a standard score (SS). The SS has a range of 200 – 800. The test results of examinees are compared to those of the norm group which has mean scores of 500 and standard deviations of 100.

The NMAT GPS is reported with a corresponding percentile rank (PR) that ranges from 1- to 99+, with a midpoint of 50. The PR indicates the percentage of NMAT examinees who have NMAT scores the same as or lower than the examinee.

The PR will be evaluated by the medical school against the PR cutoff prescribed by the Commission on Higher Education (CHED) or by the school itself. This PR cutoff is the minimum score that qualifies an examinee as a bonafide applicant for admission into his/her preferred medical school.

The scores are official and are guaranteed free of discrepancies. The CEM does not entertain rechecking of NMAT answer sheets.

Your obtained NMAT scores at any given examination year are considered sufficient and valid as basis for evaluating your application for admission to a college of medicine. You are encouraged to do well in the test and obtain your best scores to increase your chances of being accepted in the best medical schools in the Philippines.

Release of Score Reports

The test scores are reported through the Examinee Report (electronic and printed copy) and the Masterlist of Test Results (MTR).

Release of Test Results: Electronic Copy

An electronic copy of your test results is available after twenty (20) CEM business days from the test date. You may click on the link for Test Results under the Online Options on the CEM website to check status, view and/or download a copy. The electronic copy is NOT valid for admission purposes. It is only meant to help you understand your scores so you can decide to which Philippine medical schools to apply and whether or not you will retake the test. The electronic copy will NOT be sent to medical schools.

Release of Test Results: Examinee Report Forms

Your NMAT score will be printed on the Examinee Report Form (ERF). The original copy of the ERF will be mailed (at the mailing address indicated on the NMAT ID Form) or be ready for pickup (at the testing center indicated also on the NMAT Application Form) with the following schedule:

- Regular testing - six (6) weeks after the test date
- Back up testing - four (4) weeks after the test date

An independent courier service provider is contracted to transmit the ERFs. Delivery time may take more days for bulk mailing or approximately 4-7 days for NCR and 7-14 days in the provinces. CEM is not responsible for any claims for damages due to delayed delivery of your ERF for any reason. If you have not received your ERF two (2) weeks after the scheduled release, you may contact the NMAT Secretariat.

As a general rule, the following are the authorized recipients during delivery of NMAT ERF.

2. Accomplish the registration form online. Fill out ALL required fields in the form. Make sure that you enter your name as it appears on your valid ID. It is your responsibility to make sure all biographical information in your NMAT account is correct, accurate, and consistent. Your failure to provide accurate and consistent information could result in errors and processing delays. In some cases, your test result might be put on hold until the matter is resolved. You might also be asked to provide documentation to support the biographical data change (e.g., birth certificate, affidavit).

3. If you take the NMAT in the Philippines, please enter a local mailing address or Philippine post office box number. ERFs with foreign mailing address will not be mailed out.
4. Proceed with accomplishing the Student Information Questionnaire (SIQ).
5. Choose your preferred mode of payment — either by credit card or by over-the-counter bank payment. Applicants who register from abroad and will take the test in the Philippines or in the US, can only pay through credit card.
6. Check your e-mail account — inbox and spam mailbox — for your NMAT Identification (ID) Form and a confirmation of your payment if you paid by credit card. Download and print a copy of your NMAT ID Form. You will need to submit it on the test day.
7. If you need to change some or all the information given on this form, follow the instructions below (can only be done during the registration period).
  - a) Click the Edit Registration link under the Online Options on the CEM website and proceed accordingly. This option is automatically disabled once the registration period is over.

Disclosure of Personal Information

Personal information is collected during registration process. You will be asked to consider submitting personal information and your NMAT score for some medical schools' recruitment program. The option to participate in medical school's recruitment program is only available during registration. You will be asked to accept or decline this offer.

Registration and Test Fees

The NMAT Registration Fee (Php500.00) covers the development, updating, maintaining, and deployment of the online registration system. This includes the online Application Form and Student Information Questionnaire (SIQ), the transaction e-mail and password, and the downloaded materials like your NMAT Identification (ID) Form, Practice Set (Parts 1 and 2) which serves as a reviewer, and other downloadable information for the medical school applicant such as the addresses, telephone numbers, and college deans of Philippine medical schools.

The NMAT Test Fee (Php1,400.00) covers the costs of test development, processing the application form, test administration, processing and scoring of answer sheets, and the printing and delivery of test results.

The registration and test fees of applicants who will take the NMAT in the United States during its regular test schedule (usually in October) is USD380.00.

Payment Procedure

There are two (2) modes of payment:

1. Over-The-Counter Bank Transaction

If you choose to pay by bank deposit, you must go to the nearest Bank of the Philippine Islands (BPI) branch and accomplish a Deposit/Payment Slip using the bank reference numbers and CEM BPI account number given on your NMAT ID Form. Only cash and full payment of the testing fee is accepted. The bank may collect a certain amount as additional service charge. Keep the Client's copy of the deposit slip for reference or verification purposes.

A Bank Reference Number appears on your NMAT ID Form. Bring this form with you to the nearest BPI branch and fill out a deposit/payment slip with the following details:

Account Name/Merchant's Name ..... Center for Educational Measurement, Inc. (CEM)
CEM's BPI Account Number ..... 1881-0450-24
Policy/Plan/Reference No. .... (Bank Reference Number indicated on the top left portion of your NMAT ID Form)
Policy/Planholder's Name ..... (your full name as written on your NMAT ID Form)

2. Credit Card

If you choose to pay by credit card, you will be directed to the website of the BPI SecurePay and will be instructed accordingly until payment is successful. You can then view your application status and download the NMAT Practice Set.

All foreign applicants or those applying from abroad and taking the test here in the Philippines can only pay through credit card.

*Note: Over-the-counter bank deposit and payment via credit card are the only official modes of payment recognized by the registration system. We strongly discourage paying via online or mobile fund transfers or via ATM deposit, as these transactions are not automatically traceable to your NMAT application. Your name may NOT be included in the room assignments and you may NOT be able to take the test.

Also, please be reminded that you are not completely registered or fully qualified to take the NMAT if you have not paid the testing fee even if you have already downloaded, printed, and accomplished your NMAT Identification Form.

Confirmation of Payment

1. Credit card payments are automatically confirmed by e-mail once payment is successful. Check your e-mail account – both inbox and spam mailbox – for your NMAT ID Form and payment confirmation.
2. If you pay through BPI, you shall receive payment confirmation e-mail in your inbox (or spam mailbox) after two (2) business days.

If you do not receive an e-mail confirmation of your payment after two (2) business days, please contact the NMAT Secretariat.

You shall receive the CEM Official Receipt (OR) on the day of the test.

Disclaimer: Review centers or any other agencies are NOT authorized to collect or accept any NMAT testing fee from NMAT applicants. Any untoward incident arising from your dealings with them is solely your responsibility.

Examination Permit

You should visit the NMAT Online website two (2) weeks before the test date and click on the link for Room Assignment to know your test site and room assignment. Download and print your NMAT Examination Permit. If your NMAT Examination Permit or your room assignment is not yet available, call the NMAT Secretariat immediately.

Refund of Test Fees

The Registration Fee is non-refundable. You are entitled to a ninety percent (90%) refund of your Test Fee only if you submit or e-mail a letter requesting for a refund of Test Fee within the registration period. No refund shall be made after the registration period. Refund is in the form of a check that will be issued within thirty (30) business days after the registration period. You may call (632) 813-3694 or 95 local 104 to inquire on the availability of your check. The check is valid within six (6) months from the date of issue. Failure to claim the check within such period shall negate your entitlement to a refund.

Failure to take or complete the test on the scheduled test date under any circumstances totally forfeits your NMAT Registration and Testing Fees.

Cancellation of Test

In case the NMAT cannot be administered on the date announced because of fortuitous events, a postponement will be necessary and the new schedule will be announced a week later.
